How do we reach these good results?

Attracting a lot of visitors to our website is not enough to achieve good results. This is why we run regular campaigns to attract candidates with specific profiles and guide them towards jobs that are suitable for them.

1. StepStone job alert email

The StepStone job alert is an automatic email that sends customised jobs to StepStone subscribers every day. The proposed vacancies are not only based on the criteria of the candidates. StepStone also analyses their search behavior on our website to make sure your job offer is highly relevant to the candidates and you get more applications.

StepStone had more than 304.000 Job Alerts subscribers in 2021.

2. StepStone's partners

Your job will be automatically re-posted on over 100 websites at no extra charge! We strive to have a wide range of partner sites, and also post your job on specific transport & logistics websites.

By sharing your jobs on our relevant partner sites you benefit from optimal visibility.

3. Unparalleled technology and candidate experience

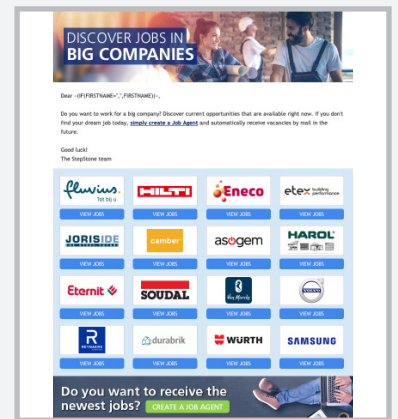

60% of candidates use their smartphone to look for a job. That's why we have created an intuitive Job App, which allows them to apply in a few clicks via their smartphone or tablet.

They are also directly informed of new job offers via notifications: your jobs are therefore immediately seen by a large number of candidates.

4. Dedicated campaigns

We regularly organize campaigns for specific profiles. In these e-mails we offer them, among other things, a range of jobs available in their sector.

We also plan a dedicated email campaign for candidates in the transport & logistics sector. Those emails bring the right profiles to our website and give more visibility to your job offer.
